

STUDENTS RECEIVING VA BENEFITS

This information is for students who received benefits through GI Bill Chapters 30, 33, 35, 1606 and VRAP*. It does not apply to Chapter 33 Post 9/11.

Emily Griffith Technical College is deemed by the VA to be a non-college degree granting (NCD) institution; therefore, students must be in daily attendance in a classroom and are not allowed to participate in online courses, home study or any other form of distance learning while receiving benefits. Programs that are structured to have the majority of their courses online (e.g. Dental Assisting, Pharmacy Technician) will not be approved by the VA.

EGTC Teachers are not authorized to allow students receiving VA Educational Benefits to attend classes from home. Emily Griffith Technical College is required to notify the VA should students receiving VA benefits not comply with the daily attendance requirement. Students who are not attending on a regular basis will be reported to the VA and may have to repay any monies paid to the school and student. While the VA may require that students receiving VA benefits repay monies to the VA, students' course registration at Emily Griffith Technical College will not be impacted.

Any changes to your registration (e.g. registering for new courses, dropping or withdrawing from a course, etc.) must be reported to the VA advisor ASAP. The advisor is not responsible for certifying unreported enrollments.

In order to get paid VA students must verify their attendance at the end of each month on the VA webpage (www.gibill.va.gov). Click on "Verify Attendance" (W.A.V.E) or call 1-877-832-2378.

I understand and agree to the above policy.
